

TAKING CARE OF THE ENVIRONMENT

WHY IS IT SO IMPORTANT?

Taking care of the environment has become a necessity. We should work together to undertake a series of actions to avoid destroying our planet and ensure an adequate environment for future generations. If we work together, we can achieve great goals.

THE 3RS

The 3Rs initiative was proposed by Greenpeace, an international ecologist NGO. Increasingly more people join and try to comply with the three principles to take care of nature from within their own home.

REDUCE

We should reduce our general consumption of resources, opting for a more sustainable and responsible consumption.

REUSE

We should try to give a second life to everything we buy. We can fix or find a new use for it. We can continue to use it and avoid purchasing new products.

RECYCLE

We should develop daily recycling habits for all types of materials: used oils, batteries, lightbulbs, ink cartridges, pharmaceutical materials, electrical appliances... As well as disposing of them in the right container: paper, cardboard, packaging, and glass
